

What to Expect as a Host Home

Please know that every effort will be made to protect your home and its furnishings. However, occasionally accidents do happen. When they do, we will work directly with the client to resolve the issue as quickly as possible.

We'll try to find out the amount of entertaining and cooking that will be done during the week and will share that information with you as it becomes available. Please note that during the week of tournament, these plans & schedules can change due to weather and changes in tournament play.

If you are a host home, that means that you will be having guest from other homes coming over to your home, as well as rental equipment possibly being brought into your house. If the number of guests ranges from 6-8 people, they might wish to use your dishes, glasses, silverware, if those items are available.

When catering is hired, you will be contacted by the person in charge and they will set up an appointment to come by your home and answer any questions, take a quick inventory of what will be available for them to use, and assess what they will need to bring in.

Please understand that your kitchen will be used during the week. Most caterers are unable to bring all the equipment they will need, so they'll need to use your pots, pans, cookie sheets, etc. Please note that we can't guarantee that everything will be returned to its proper place, but every effort will be made to place these items back in their respective locations.

Please be sure to empty your refrigerator and freezer prior to tournament week to make available space.

With the beautiful weather in April, most of our guests like to be outdoors. They also tend to enjoy meats and vegetables cooked on the grill. Please make sure that your grill's gas tank is full. If there are instructions for your grill, please make sure those are available. Most chefs are busy ensuring that the meals are perfect for the guests. Occasionally on the last day of a long week, grill-cleaning might get overlooked. Please know that this isn't intentional; there are a tremendous amount of things a chef/caterer must do in order to return your home and your kitchen to you the way that they found it, and there can be oversights from time to time.

If you have further questions, don't hesitate to contact us. Thank you for choosing Corporate Quarters for your tournament week home rental!
